

Rishabh Salian

Design Engineer

AI-native products: architecture, data models, and evaluation

Designer working where product design meets AI systems: trained on objects, moved through interfaces, now building the systems underneath them. Currently completing an MS in Strategic Design & Management at Parsons, where my graduate work ships as working software: four projects with live, interactive demos at rishabhsalian.com, led by Follow, a shared memory for a team's AI chats, all designed and built end to end with Next.js, TypeScript, and AI-assisted development.
